

Transport policy statement for learners aged 16-19 in further education Summary in Easy Read

2024/2025

Introduction

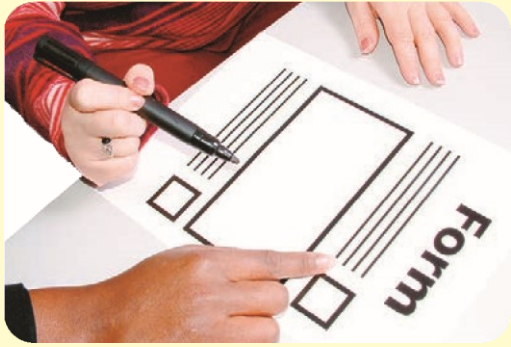

This document is to help you understand what help you can get to travel to school, 6th form, college or a training centre.

The travel assistance and help with costs is for some young people with additional needs aged between 16 and 25.

Councils do not have to help young people with travel to school, college, training or social care once they are of sixth form age (this means year 12 and above) but they have to let you know what help you may be able to get.

If you are carrying on in education post 16 you must reapply for travel support even if you have had help to get to school.

We also have an All Age Travel Assistance Policy which can also tell you what help you may be able to get.

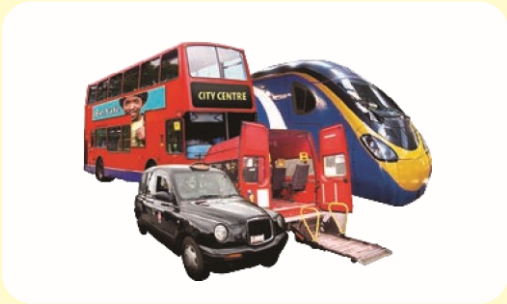

We want to help children, young people and adults be as independent as they can be. We will work together to make this happen in a way that is right for them.

We will make sure that people are safe and protected from harm.

Support from the City of Wolverhampton Council

Councils do not have to help young people with travel to school, college, training or social care once they are of sixth form age (this means year 12 and above).

To get help, they must live in the city of Wolverhampton

Some young people going to colleges, sixth form or training may get travel assistance in certain cases. This could be that they would not be able to continue with their learning if they did not get help.

To get help, they must go to the nearest school, college or training centre that is right for them.

To get help, they must be able to show they cannot get to college, sixth form or training centre any other way.

To get help, they must be aged 16 to 19 or have started the course they are on before their 19th birthday.

To get help, they must go to college, sixth form or training for more than 15 hours each week.

They must be willing to pay some money towards the cost of their transport. If they are able to have transport, they will have to pay £600 a year or £300 if their family does not earn much money.

The Council will check that transport is still needed every year.

Transport will normally only be provided at the start and end of the school, college or training centre day. You may be able to travel at other times in certain cases.

Adult Learners age 19 to 25

The Council wants to help young adults to carry on learning to become more independent, if they want to.

Most young adults should be able to get to where they learn without help from the Council. We may provide help in certain cases when there are extra support needs.

When deciding if they need help the Council will look at the young person's age, ability, needs and how difficult it is to get to their place of learning.

To get help, they must live in the City of Wolverhampton.

To get help, they must go to the nearest college, sixth form or training centre that is right for them.

Help may also not be given if it would be possible for them to use the higher rate mobility component of their personal independence payment or their 'motability' vehicle.

They must be able to show they cannot get to their place of learning any other way.

Travel Training

Independent travel training can be arranged. This can help children, young people and adults to travel safely and independently.

All qualifying post 16 students will be individually assessed for travel training. If travel training is right for them they will receive training to develop life skills and travel independently on public transport and issued with a travel pass.

The Council will look at the plan and may change it or keep it the same.

If the young person, family member or carer are still not happy, they can tell an independent panel why that is.

The panel is independent because none of its members would have helped make the original decision.
